OUR PROJECTS

Every Scandinavian design lover's dream come true. Pastel colours, laminated wood flooring, the whole package.

Coffeemin revolutionises the idea of the Café. Here you are free to be yourself; you can work, read a book, play games, get acquainted with good people, drink and eat as much as you want — in other words, do whatever you like as long as you respect the space and the other people in it. Everything is free except the time you spend, and by paying for the time, you help to sustain the Coffeemin community and maintain your home away from home!

Types of Commercial Interior Design Projects

With a plethora of café sprouting all over Singapore, the demand for commercial interior designers for F&B spaces have increased. Beyond serving as a comfortable ambience for a relaxing Sunday brunch, there is strong emphasis of the interior to be "Instagramable". Aside from having a minimalist interior that satisfy the customers, F&B interior designers and their team of renovation contractors, would need to consider the ergonomics of the working environment of the staff.

The gruelling part of a commercial renovation project is that beyond aesthetics and functionality, a well-designed interior conveys the company's brand and ideology. These are the different type of interior design projects:
